

MANAGEMENT & ORGANIZATIONAL STUDIES (MOS)

Where Business Comes Alive

Master the Art of Management

A member of the Business School Association of Canada, Management & Organizational Studies is a progressive program that allows you to explore all areas of business and how organizations operate.

Through in-class teaching and countless hands-on experiential learning opportunities both locally and globally, this program equips you for any number of careers and provides you with the skills most sought after in the workplace.

Where Curiosity Leads, Passion Follows

Your first year builds a strong foundation for your degree.

With core courses in Economics, Math, Business, and Computer Science, you'll develop essential skills in analysis, communication, and problem-solving. You'll also have room to explore a wide range of subjects across different disciplines.

Customize your Degree

Combine modules like specializations, majors, and minors to build a path that matches your passions and goals.

Beyond the Classroom

Huron's MOS program partners with the community to integrate real-world experiences as a core component of each learner's degree. In a growing number of offerings, course content is directly linked to practical applications. Recent examples include:

- Teams of students working as consultants with actual clients on real-world business problems. Local organizations included London Film Festival, Canadian Commercial Real Estate, rTraction, L'Arche, Thames Tire, among others. In previous years, another 20-plus clients were served, including Life*Spin, Nash Jewellers, Hog Town Cycles, the London Small Business Centre, Clarendon Technologies, and Oxford Learning Centre.
- The Business-Government Relations Class worked with Music London, where student teams competed with a 3-minute pitch competition for the best marketing strategy proposal.
- The Organizational Governance class worked with Museum London, Youth Opportunities Unlimited, Across Languages, London Environmental Network, and Pillar Non-Profit to provide consultancy services.

CAREER INTERNSHIPS

Get paid part-time experience during the school year or full-time in summer. These roles align with your interests and help build your resume with real-world value.

ACADEMIC INTERNSHIPS

Earn while you learn. Take 4–16 months off between Year 3 and Year 4 for a full-time, for-credit, paid internship. Many students receive job offers after completion.

RESEARCH INTERNSHIPS

Work with a Huron faculty member for support on a student research fellowship with funding up to $1,500 or a paid research assistant opportunity.

ENTREPRENEURIAL INTERNSHIPS

Get support to ideate, plan, and launch a new business. You'll get 1:1 coaching, access to funding, and other resources to set you up for success.

Travel Study

Embark on an international adventure and gain hands-on experience, build community, and explore different cultures. Huron University provides experiential learning opportunities abroad, as well as support to students for international exchanges.
