LEADERS with heart

Nice to Meet You

Leaders with heart

Founded over 160 years ago, Huron prioritizes ethical leadership, community engagement, and professional success. Our programs encourage civic responsibility and compassion, inspiring students to make a positive impact in the world.

HEART OF HURON

This wall celebrates the community members who hold a strong belief in the value of education. Each name represents an individual or family who recognizes the world is crying out for young people who not only have the knowledge and skills to lead but also the courage to act ethically.

Thank you for believing in Huron's ability to foster our students' potential. May they follow your example and put the needs of others before all else, making the world a better place by paying your generosity forward.

Huron isn't for everyone. It's for students who want more from their education. University isn't just about choosing a program or preparing for a career. It's where you start to figure out what matters to you, what you're capable of, and the kind of future you want to build.

At Huron, you'll be part of a community where you're known, supported, and challenged. Here, you won't be lost in a crowd. You'll take part in conversations that push your thinking, learn from people with different perspectives, and have opportunities to apply what you're learning beyond the classroom.

It's an experience that builds more than knowledge. It builds confidence, perspective, and a sense of direction.

If that's what you're looking for, Huron might be the right place for you.

I invite you to explore the pages ahead to imagine what your path could look like here and see how a Huron education prepares you for what's next.

Feel free to reach out to me directly if you'd like to learn more.

Advantages of Learning at Huron

At every step, you'll find meaningful ways to build your career while deepening your perspective to Lead with Heart.

■ Interactive Class Discussions

With an average class size of 30, it's easy to participate in classroom discussions, debate ideas, and benefit from case-method learning.

■ Learning & Academic Resources

At Huron, support goes beyond the assignment at hand. Through personalized guidance from our Library and Learning Services team, you'll develop stronger writing, research, and learning skills that serve you throughout your degree and beyond. You'll also enjoy access to one of Canada's largest academic library systems.

■ Undergraduate Research Grants

Learning how to research starts in your first year. The Centre for Undergraduate Research Learning (CURL) offers you the opportunity to explore your curiosity, turn your interests into action, and contribute to impactful work. Funding is available for research fellowships, and students can present their findings at conferences and go on to competitive graduate programs.

■ Valuable Network Connections

Build a powerful network through meaningful connections with professors, upper-year students, and Huron's accomplished alumni, as well as through our mentorship program, internships, international opportunities, and world-class signature programs.

■ 1:1 Support from Professors

At Huron, you're a person, not a student number. Our professors will know you by name, mentor you, and help you discover where you can excel and leave your mark on the world.

■ Career Readiness

Our highly individualized approach connects your academic learning with applied workplace experience, preparing you to step confidently into your career. Your personalized four-year plan of professional, leadership, and community experiences will set you apart from graduates at other universities.

A large portrait of Jayden Wright, a young woman with dark curly hair, wearing a green polo shirt, smiling. The background is a blurred indoor setting with large windows.

"At Huron, you'll find tenacious, creative, and compassionate people who inspire you to be a Leader with Heart. It's a community like no other. Through opportunities in research, student leadership, and campus life, along with the support of professors and peers, I learned how students can make a meaningful difference. These experiences, grounded in humility, community engagement, and critical thinking, helped shape who I am today and led me to become a McCall MacBain Scholar at McGill."

JAYDEN WRIGHT

At Huron, Jayden embraced opportunities in research, leadership, and community involvement. She served as a tutor, residence don, and research assistant, led a project through the Centre for Undergraduate Research Learning (CURL), co-published funded research, and served as President of the Students' Council. These experiences led to fully funded graduate studies and recognition as one of 30 students nationwide selected as a McCall MacBain Scholar.

Arts & Social Science

Select from courses and programs at both Huron and Western

You'll have the flexibility to combine majors, minors, and specializations to shape a degree that reflects your interests and goals.

In your first year, you don't need to have everything figured out. Our personalized approach lets you explore subjects before choosing your major.

Your path, your choice. You can choose to complete your first two years at Huron before applying to Ivey's Honours Business Administration (HBA) program, or you can apply directly from high school for Advanced Entry Opportunity (AEO), a conditional pre-admission to the HBA program.

Mentorship that Grows with You

GUIDANCE THAT PREPARES YOU FOR WHAT'S NEXT

Huron's Mentorship Program supports your development at every stage. You'll connect with mentors who help you navigate decisions, build confidence, and take your next step with purpose.

First-year students connect with upper-year peers in the same program to help them transition to university and thrive academically.

Upper-year students are matched with alumni and professionals who offer career guidance and help build valuable networks.

Future grad students receive tailored mentorship from graduate students in their field to prepare for applications and exams.

Aspiring entrepreneurs are supported by mentors with startup experience to help bring their business ideas to life.

Will Simpson was mentored by Adam Minielly '06
Director, Legal Operations and Reporting at Sunlife

The relationship Will built with his mentor became an essential part of his experience at Huron, helping him navigate the uncertainty of planning for life after graduation.

“Adam supported me through interviews, applications, and networking, which made me feel much more confident exploring post-grad opportunities. I expanded my network and explored career paths I may not have considered otherwise. I think every student should take advantage of Huron’s Mentorship Program.”

For Adam, mentorship is all about helping students bridge the gap between academic potential and professional readiness.

“Working with Will, I was struck by his intellectual curiosity and drive. Mentorship is a meaningful way to give back the guidance that shaped my own career while helping students find clarity as they navigate what comes next.”

MORGAN FLEET
MOS, Business Intelligence
Elmira District Secondary School
Elmira, Ontario

Morgan Fleet was mentored by Amanda de Vogel '03
Head, International Small Business at Scotiabank

Morgan discovered how mentorship can create connections, open doors, and offer honest guidance while exploring what comes after graduation.

“I could ask Amanda anything. She opened doors for me to meet professionals in her network and helped me explore career paths I hadn’t considered. The Mentorship Program helped me figure out what I want in a career.”

Amanda has over 20 years of international experience in the finance industry and continues to mentor Huron students, finding the experience impactful and fulfilling.

“It was rewarding to support Morgan as we explored how her creative thinking and problem-solving strengths could lead to a fulfilling career. Mentorship creates space for simple conversations that can help make the next step feel more approachable.”

Guaranteed Paid Internship Opportunities

HANDS-ON WORK EXPERIENCE WHILE YOU LEARN

Career development at Huron is built into your academic journey. You'll apply your learning, develop in-demand skills, and pursue paid opportunities locally, across Canada, internationally, or you can even create your own.

1

Career Internships

Get paid experience during the school year or in summer. These roles align with your interests and build practical, hands-on skills to help you stand out.

2

Academic Internships

Take on a full-time, for-credit, paid internship for 4–16 months between Year 3 and Year 4. Many students receive job offers after their internships.

3

Research Internships

Work with Huron professors on a student research fellowship with available funding, or as a paid research assistant.

4

Entrepreneurial Internships

Turn ideas into action with 1:1 coaching, funding opportunities, and support to launch your own venture.

"Through key introductions made by TechAlliance, we see firsthand how emerging talent from Huron is advancing prosperity at some of Canada's leading technology firms headquartered in London. That is why we continue to host student interns and hire graduates for the calibre of talent, entrepreneurial mindset, and their valuable contribution to the innovation ecosystem."

CHRISTINA FOX

"It's okay not to have everything figured out right away. I was still uncertain about my career path well into my third year. With the support of Huron's professors, advisors, and alumni, I had the space to grow, take chances, and ultimately experience a full-circle moment in my career."

OLIVIA PERRETTA

MOS, Organizational Studies,
Policy & Ethics

*Father John Redmond Secondary School
Etobicoke, Ontario*

As a child, Olivia Perretta attended Maple Leaf Sports & Entertainment (MLSE) hockey camps. Years later, a connection with a Huron alum led her back to MLSE as an intern, and eventually to a full-time role developing youth programming for teams including the Toronto Maple Leafs and Toronto FC. Encouraged by a career coach to explore opportunities in sports management, Olivia combined her leadership experience with hands-on learning through coursework and co-curricular involvement. Along the way, she built practical skills in event planning, communication, and strategy, helping turn an internship into a career before graduation.

HURON STUDENTS HAVE MADE THEIR MARK AT:

Experiential Learning for a Global Advantage

EXPERIENCES THAT STAY WITH YOU LONG AFTER GRADUATION

Take your learning beyond the classroom through exchanges, internships, and experiential learning opportunities across Canada and around the world.

"Huron offers incredible experiential learning opportunities, both locally and internationally, that challenge students to apply classroom learning in new and meaningful ways. As part of a Basque Country trip for students interested in collaborative governance, I was encouraged to think critically about the role of AI in society while learning alongside students from around the world. It was an unforgettable experience that connected classroom learning with global issues."

INTERNATIONAL EXCHANGES

Study abroad for a semester or year and immerse yourself in a new culture.

Huron has exchange partners in Austria, China, France, Hong Kong, Japan, Sweden, the United Kingdom and more. Through coursework and daily life, you'll build cross-cultural understanding, and expand how you see the world.

- ← A 4-month exchange at Bath Spa University in England gave Jamie Jones (English & Cultural Studies) unforgettable memories and experiences that deepened her passion for her studies.

INTERNSHIPS

Start here. Apply your learning anywhere.

Gain hands-on experience with businesses and organizations across Canada or abroad, while building skills that set you apart to employers.

- ← During her internship with TechAlliance, Khrystel Libag (MOS, Marketing & Sustainability) led social media storytelling for Startup Weekend while connecting with entrepreneurs, mentors, and innovators.

BEYOND THE CLASSROOM

Put your learning into practice.

Engage in faculty-led experiential learning in Canada or abroad, applying your learning through immersive, community-based projects.

- ← As part of a course on the Sixty Years' War, Huron History students took a 5-day trip on a tall ship exploring the coast of Lake Erie.

"My liberal arts education at Huron prepared me to think critically, balance multiple perspectives, and navigate complex challenges. Those skills have been invaluable throughout my career in strategic communications, sustainability, and corporate affairs, helping me lead with purpose and create positive outcomes across industries."

Where Huron Grads Go

START HERE, GO ANYWHERE

Whether your path leads to graduate studies or directly into your career, you'll be more than ready. This is how Leaders with Heart make a lasting impact.

"My Huron experience, inside the classroom and out, gave me the courage to pursue a career path that at times felt unconventional. Often, all it takes is one mentor, professor, or peer to inspire that confidence. Since graduating, I've taken pride in supporting current students in the hopes of helping them build that same confidence in themselves."

Lead with Heart at Huron:

LEAD THROUGH ACTION, SERVICE, AND COMMUNITY

There are all kinds of ways to make the most of your experience at Huron. Whether you join Students' Council, lead a club, or take on roles like Soph or Don, there are plenty of ways to step up and lead. Get involved and start developing your leadership skills!

Huron University College Students' Council (HUCSC)

The HUCSC is our student government committed to advocating for students, organizing clubs and programming, and providing meaningful development opportunities. Get involved and have your voice heard!

"Joining clubs like Huron Women in Politics and the HUCSC in my first year helped me find my place through shared interests. My journey to becoming Students' Council President would not have been possible without getting involved early. Taking initiative opens doors to opportunities that meaningfully shape your university experience."
