

JAPANESE CUISINE: TRADITION, INNOVATION, AND GLOBAL IMPACT

COURSE NUMBER: JPN 395 I G

WINTER 2026

SPECIAL TOPIC IN JAPAN STUDIES

In this seminar, students explore the diverse and evolving world of Japanese cuisine. They investigate innovations that influence local and global practices, from traditional to contemporary techniques. The course emphasizes creativity and artistry in modern Japanese food culture, addressing issues of localization, globalization, and glocalization.

Contact: sakaimor@uwo.ca