Course Description:

This course integrates the various research tools used within the social sciences and applies them to practical marketing research settings. The focus is on how to develop research designs, instruments, and methodologies to answer specific applied research questions and theories.

Learning Outcomes:

1. Synthesizing social science research approaches, and developing knowledge and awareness of available research methods and tools/designs for discovering insights into marketing phenomenon and for collecting, compiling, and analyzing marketing data.
2. Identifying appropriate statistical tests to apply to marketing research questions, conduct, analyze and interpret research data, as well as infer conclusions and apply the findings to augment marketing strategies.
3. Generate, design and conduct a marketing study to investigate and solve a novel and managerially relevant research question. Students will gain experience formulating a research question, reviewing and interpreting relevant literature, and generating hypotheses. They will apply their learned knowledge in justifying appropriate research design, data collection, and statistical techniques, identify the limitations of the proposed research, and conclude managerial implications of the research.
4. Refine essay-writing skills by formulating and composing a research report; practice communication and critical thinking skills, as well as manage peer learning by debating, investigating, explaining, and demonstrating scientific methods and statistics.
