Course Description:

This course is an introduction to the philosophy of law. We will attempt to understand law and legal practice by exploring the relationship between law and morality and the relationship between adjudication and reasoning. We will also consider criticisms of this approach by feminist jurisprudence, critical race theory and legal pluralism.

Learning Outcomes:

1. Describe philosophical basic theories in philosophy of law.
2. Discuss competing points of view on issues in philosophy of law.
3. Evaluate conflicting philosophical arguments related to these issues.
4. Formulate well-reasoned solutions to practical dilemmas.
5. Persuade others of a well-reasoned stance or action.
6. Demonstrate authentic and effective writing as well as skillful critical and reflective thinking.
