Course Description:

An introduction to core concepts in pastoral care and counselling, psycho-spiritual and psychotherapy for congregational ministry, chaplaincy, and counselling practice. Student are introduced to a wide range of entry-to-practice competencies established by the College of Registered Psychotherapist in Ontario (CRPO). Course seminars and professional literature will integrate knowledge of human functioning, therapeutic process, collegiality, and professional responsibilities. Students will practise basic therapeutic techniques, drawing on family systems theory, pastoral counselling, and solution focused brief counselling models. Students will reflect theologically on the theory and practice of care and counselling.
