

UNDRESSING CONSENT TRAINING GUIDE

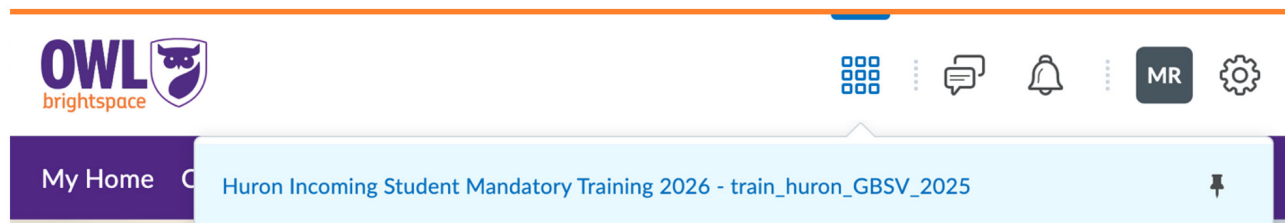

Note: This guide is for all students who are new to Huron as of September 2026 (including Transfer Students). This training is mandatory to be able to participate in Orientation Week. Information may be updated/subject to change as more information becomes available.

INFORMATION ABOUT THE TRAINING

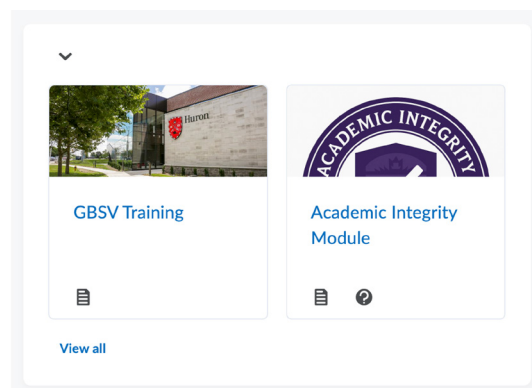

- This is a 90-minute skill-building seminar that encourages reflection on consent communication, sexual violence, and its impact on the community.
- Sessions are split by gender identity: 1) men or 2) women/non-binary.
- There is a registration cap for each session, so be sure to register ASAP to ensure you get a spot at your desired day/time.
- This training is most effective with student engagement. We encourage you to come ready to participate. However, you will not be required to share anything you do not want to share.
- You must have your camera on. As much as possible, please ensure you are in a private space. If this is not feasible, please use headphones.
- There will be people in the session with varying levels of experience and knowledge, but everyone can benefit from the training content.
- You may experience discomfort during this training because we will be discussing issues that are rooted in our beliefs and values, as well as topics that frequently go unspoken. Discomfort is not the same as being triggered. You can, of course, leave the Zoom session if you feel unable to continue. Please send a private message to the facilitator letting them know. If you feel triggered, support will be available.
